

Culture Unplugged Studios (“C.U.S.”) is building a library of short and long form cinema from Asia and Middle East for global promotional effort. This is an effort to assist filmmakers in distributing their work and further promoting their activities as professional filmmakers and producers, and also to identify filmmakers & producers as citizens of this world, contributing to the transformation of collective consciousness.

When you submit your content to the Culture Unplugged Studios, you grant us a non-exclusive license to showcase and screen your work through the Culture Unplugged Studios, through online portals as well as mobile devices, and offline screening venues. We don’t own your film; you just grant us a non-exclusive license to showcase it. At any given time if you wish to withdraw your film from archive, you can do so by informing C.U.S. The request to remove will be furnished within 30 days from the day of the request.

In the event that a third party network expresses interest in broadcasting the festival program, we will contact you and put both parties in touch with each other directly, and if you wish we would be happy to work with you and enable you to showcase your content in the best way. With your permission, we will act on your behalf to promote your work to global audiences and present your profile as a filmmaker and artist through our online properties.

We understand your time is important and apologize for the length of this document. However, please read this and share your concern and suggestions with us. We wish to listen to you, the film-maker and film-producer, and partner with you to further democratize the film industry and facilitate the shift of control from traditional gatekeepers of the industry to creative independents. We hope to grow with you and introduce new age system to the film industry. Your feedback and patience are highly appreciated.
